DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to because Figs 2-3 are currently informal (i.e. handwritten). Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-5 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Iggulden, US

In considering claims 1-5,

Iggulden disclose a system (analog and/or digital) (para 0023) where the user is able to either select the on/off option for the new ticker portion (as shown in the figures) via user remote control 506.

In considering claim 6,

As stated above, Iggulden discloses a system which receives/processes/detects (meeting the claimed identifying) a newscast which includes the video/audio and ticker portion, where the system either display or does not display the ticker portion based upon the user preference.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 7-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Iggulden, US 20040008278.

Iggulden does not claim the conventional identifying acts (i.e. information, logical recognition) in identifying the signal.

However, these claimed features are notorious well known in the art, where it is known that users or headends may tailor information to a user based upon the user's viewing habits, upcoming programs etc... in order to customize/select for the user from the vast amount of channels/sources/information available, thereby alerting the user to upcoming events/programs.

The examiner thus takes "OFFICIAL NOTICE" regarding such features for the advantages as noted above. In the event the applicant desires to traverse such notice, the examiner requests the applicant to review the newly cited references in order to expedite prosecution.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure—see newly cited references on attached form PTO-892.

EFS allows customers to electronically file patent application documents securely via the Internet. EFS is a system for submitting new utility patent applications and pre-grant publication submissions in electronic publication-ready form. EFS includes software to help customers prepare submissions in extensible Markup Language (XML) format and to assemble the various parts of the application as an electronic submission package. EFS also allows the submission of Computer Readable Format (CRF) sequence listings for pending biotechnology patent applications, which were filed in paper form.
